OMAHA OPENS THEATER FOR PERFORMING ARTS

Mr. HRUSKA. Mr. President, my home city of Omaha will reopen its Orpheum Theater on January 17 of next year. Built in 1927, the theater contains Renaissance-like statuary, Italian marble columns and staircases. With a seating capacity of 2,000, the Orpheum was like the Fox in San Francisco and Loew's Paradise in New York.

be at variance with congressional intentions, is in my mind, a serious error especially in the face of determined congressional efforts to legislate reforms of the entire Johnson-O'Malley program. The discrepancies and inequities which are clearly reflected in the 1975 JOM budget only support the need for review of the JOM program and the need for early reform. In this regard, it makes little sense to establish a new allocation system until Congress has a chance to consider the best approach to this problem. The allocation of JOM funds is the prerogative of Congress and any changes in that system should be determined by Congress and not the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

CONCLUSION

Mr. President, over the past few years we have experienced great momentum in developing quality Indian education programs and in providing increased resources to meet the requirements of those programs. Yet, that momentum could be threatened if the "Band Analysis" budgetary system is allowed to operate the Johnson-O'Malley program. I do not doubt for a minute the sincere motivations of those who urged the use of "Band Analysis" in allocating JOM funds. But obviously it just is not working. If we permit a system like "Band Analysis" to determine levels of support without reference to the actual needs of local educational agencies then the role of Johnson-O'Malley as a major force in Indian education programs will be eroded. This, to me, would be unacceptable, not only to those schools affected by JOM but, more importantly, to our Indian citizens and their dreams for educational attainment. The threat to the educational opportunities for Indian children is real under "Band Analysis" and it is for this reason that I find such a system inequitable and clearly inappropriate in meeting the need of those public schools which are on the front line in providing a quality Indian education program.

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
BUREAU OF INDIAN AFFAIRS,
Washington, D.C., December 16, 1974
HON. PAUL FANNIN,
U.S. Senate,
Washington, D.C.

DEAR SENATOR FANNIN: In response to your letter of November 27 concerning Johnson O'Malley programming, this confirms that the Johnson O'Malley program will not be included in the Indian Priority System (Band Analysis) in the development of the FY 1977 program needs. The recently published regulations on the administration of the Johnson O'Malley program now prescribe a formula that is not under the control of local jurisdictions. Therefore, this program is no longer compatible to the band analysis system which provides for local Indian decisions at the field level to make trade-offs among various programs.

Sincerely yours,

MORRIS THOMPSON,
Commissioner of Indian Affairs.
